Boston Wool

Boston Wool,

BOSTON, April 26.—There has been a slight advance in prices in the local wool market with the result that transfers lately have been slight. The bulk of the trading is in domestic clips and some new Arlzona is selling well.

Holders are less inclined to close out their supplies on a falling market and are refusing low bids. There is an unusual lack of interest locally in the new clip and very few Boston houses have been buyers in the field.
